

Melissa Tossell
Principal and Owner of Sanura Design

As the principal and owner of Sanura Design, alongside her team, Melissa offers turnkey services for homeowners and small businesses using "intelligent quality design and a sense of humour".

She found a knack for guiding and helping clients through the entire renovation process — being able to balance pushing their boundaries into what they love with handling the nitty-gritty details like permits, contractors, and detailed designs.

Today she takes great joy in her work and passionately supports her community through volunteerism (a requirement for everyone at Sanura Design) — both every Monday at Furniture Bank and through her association, ARIDO. She also mentors students and those starting their careers, and writes and speaks where she can to educate the public on design and beyond.
