Co-founder & Creative Director, Mason Studio

Stanley Sun is the co-founder and creative director of Mason Studio, a dynamic, award-winning interior design firm in Toronto, Canada. His design vision is informed by a unique blend of formal studies in human sciences, fine arts and interior design. Approaching each new design challenge with a combined scientific and humanistic perspective, he first observes how people experience and react to the built environment to then create a rational and intuitive design solution.
