

Phil Wong

Associate, Senior Interior Designer, Kasian Architecture

Phil Wong recognizes the primary role that the Interior environment or spaces should contribute to the quality of everyday life. His design philosophy is to provide a healthy, safety environment and positive atmosphere for activities within and extend to reinforce and energize the business or personal responses commercially and privately.

Phil graduated in Ryerson University and is a registered interior designer in Canada. He is a well round experience interior designer in North America and Asia, ranging from commercial, retails, hospitality, senior living, multi-family, and corporate interiors. His user-friendly design rationality led him won few furniture design competition awards. Phil is currently with Kasian Architecture Interior Design & Planning Ltd Vancouver Office as an Associate, Senior Interior Designer and leads his team to collaborate with architectural teams for integrated projects. He also is an advocator in collaboration with design community to produce meaningful and impactful works.