

BROOKE ANDERSON
Senior Designer at HOK

Brooke is a passionate designer who loves to connect with her peers and get exposed to new and exciting ideas. She has diverse experience working in an array of industries, including: workplace, aviation and hospitality, as well as government, justice, and healthcare. She is active in the design community currently as a member of the ARIDO Communications Committee and mentors ARIDO interns studying for their NCIDQ exams.

Brooke is detail-oriented, well-versed technically and a strong communicator, enabling her to effectively lead teams of designers and subconsultants to deliver projects successfully. She believes that recognizing other individual's passions for interior design, architecture and engineering is a key component to creating strong teams that deliver exceptional projects.
